

Stoudson Corporation

Table Of Contents

- 1 Overview
- 2 Information
- 3 Stoudson Bomb
- 4 Locations
 - 4.1 Stoudson's Bastion
 - 4.2 The Stoudson Cooperation
- 5 Trivia
- 6 Notes

The article about the Stoudson Corporation in the storyline.

(This article is currently under construction!)

Not to be confused with: Stoudson Corporation (Website).

1 Overview

The Stoudson Corporation is a major European military-industrial complex and arms industry business organisation that specialises in manufacturing weapons and armament, as well as pioneering new advanced military technology research and development.

The Stoudson Corporation is closely affiliated with the Resistance, and the defence contractor is responsible for producing many highly advanced weapons and technology for the faction. One of their most significant products is the renowned Stoudson Bomb.

2 Information

The headquarters of Stoudson Corporation are located in the Resistance territory, somewhere in Northern Europe; possibly in the former territories of Germany or the United Kingdom.

The former Vice President of Stoudson Corporation is Bernd Beyreuther (one of the key original Urban Assault developers from Germany).

The retired Defense General Andre Weissflog (one of the key original Urban Assault developers from Germany) praised Fox as one of the best products from Stoudson Corporation in his interview, remarking its combination of mobility, cost-effectiveness and anti-air capabilities as well as the fact that he wished they had more in the early days of the wars.

3 Stoudson Bomb

Main Article: Stoudson Bomb

Quote

The Stoudson Bomb was certainly designed by committee! All those trigger points--and if someone gets there first, Goodbye!

--Bernd Beyreuther, former Stoudson Corp. VP of Special Projects

4 Locations

As the power and influence of the Resistance gradually spread across the globe after their successful military campaign against the other major factions as well as their triumph over the destruction of the first Parasite Machine installed by the invader Mykonians, several Resistance-occupied locations and territories around the world have been named after the company.

Metropolis Dawn spoilers below!

4.1 Stoudson's Bastion

Display Spoiler

In the Taerkasten campaign of the Metropolis Dawn expansion pack, Stoudson's Bastion is one of the major Resistance strongholds in their newly gained territory in Northern Africa. The area consists of towns and fortified military bases that are extensively installed throughout the mountainous hills and valleys, and it is heavily guarded by three Resistance SDUs with ample defensive garrisons and emplacements.

4.2 The Stoudson Cooperation

Display Spoiler

In the Ghorkov campaign of the Metropolis Dawn expansion pack, the Stoudson Cooperation is the primary test area of the Stoudson Corporation within the new Resistance-occupied territory in Northeast Asia. The region is defended by one powerful Resistian SDU and contains multiple sets of functional Stoudson Bombs with their key sectors installed across vast and expansive urban sectors and industrial zones, which are well-protected by the large Resistian military forces and defensive structures.

5 Trivia

- The word 'Stoudson' is derived from the combination of a rare Scandinavian/Nordic surname 'Stoud', and a common Northern European surname suffix '-son'.

6 Notes

Under Construction.