The article about the Tutorial Drones in Urban Assault.

(This page is currently under construction!)

1 Information

The Drones are a 'tutorial' faction' featured in the training missions of the original Resistance campaign. They are developed by the Resistance and utilised in their secret training sanctuary to provide training sessions for SDU7 (player).

2 Official Description (HELP Files)

The Drones does not have an official Help file entries as they are training dummies rather than an enemy faction.

3 Overview

Drones are large, cylindrical-shaped airborne robots which simulate the behaviour and mechanics of host stations and units directly linked into their command system battle networks. They are mostly harmless, with only one variant of the drones equipped with a very weak weapon inflicting a tiny amount of damage.

4 Units and Building Information

Main Article: Drones Units and Buildings Overview

5 Playability

No. (The faction is not designed to be a playable main faction for the human players. It only appears as a single-player exclusive enemy faction controlled by the AI. The faction is not a part of the normal game balance model.)

10 Notes

- While invisible and colourless on GUI, the drones technically possess their own sector designation. The sector ownership of the Drones is practically utilised in the game as a functionality to represent alternative 'neutral' sectors for the placement of unoccupied, pre-deployed power stations in the game levels.
